Hi,
I made a wrong assumption about this crews timeline.
The inside is all set, like I said and they have left their materials here to take care of the outside painting, but they're not returning today it seems.
They worked 11 hour days to finish everything else, but had to get back to another project I guess.
I called the foreman in charge to ask about their timeline, but he hasn't gotten back to me yet.
But everything is safe and sound inside.

Oh. Ok. I broke out in some kind of hives. Feeling really terrible. I probably won't head back until tomorrow afternoon.
